Our Graduates . . . and Underclassmen

"The true Christian, product of Christian education, is the supernatural man who thinks, judges and acts constantly and consistently in accordance with right reason illumined by the supernatural light of the example and teaching of Christ; in other words, to use the current term, the true and finished man of character."

—Pius XI.

Viola Faeth

"All that's best of dark or bright"
... magnetic personality ... first woman class president as a junior
... wide scope of friendship ...
"You-uns" ... "Now is the Hour."

James Bradner

Our crooner ... obsession for bow ties ... fastidious attire ... Senior class president ... red hair and freckles ... prefers brunettes ... cool, calm, and collected ... has the cutest grin.

Sara Martin

Dark, natural curls ... seen and always heard ... A-1 personality
... a little nonsense now and then
... "Where the cold sea maids rise to sun their streaming hair."

Theresa Kruszynski

Tall and terrific ... always in search of a comb or powder puff... has that dreamy "Drene" look ... a future woman in white ... one of our lovely cheerleaders.

James Whitta

Domineering personality ... "give me an auto, a book, and a ball" ...
football captain ... senior treasurer
... "The Olds and I" ... THE master of ceremonies ... temper, temper.

Mary Tinkovicz

Lovely to look at, delightful to know
... that's "Tink" ... petite ...
"Thy hair soft lifted by the winnowing wind" ... she would bathe
the world in smiles of glee ... "hi"
... dance, dance, dance.

J. Bradner, V. Faeth, S. Martin, J. Whitt ta, senior class officers.

Penny for your thoughts, Vera.

Our Classes

"The Church, far from hindering the pursuit of the arts and sciences, fosters and promotes them in many ways. Nor does she prevent sciences, each in its own sphere, from making use of principles and methods of their own."

—Pius XI.

The library is a busy place for research artists.

. . . And so our course of studies at S. W. H. takes us deeper and deeper into the fields of religion, science, languages, mathematics, domestic arts, commerce, speech, music . . . No time to be dull!

"Can you name the divisions of the liturgical year?"

The new Public Address System with all its convenient accessories brings a variety of welcome interruptions in the form of routine announcements, dramatizations of every kind, pep talks, and "Bob Ardner, kindly stop in the office at 3:10."

Senior poetry daze! Three glorious days spent in reciting our favorite poems. Frightened, Theresa? Looks like D. Loeffler and P. Lehman can hardly wait.

"Be sure you modulate your voice, Mary Jo, because some day this record will mean a lot to you." Don Schalk watches the needle while J. Crawford, J. Braqq and M. Puchta watch the artist.

From English

Are these students interested in English, or could it be that Eleanor Schultz attracts them?

. . . to Spanish

"Cuatro milpas" is the rendition being sung for us by seven Spanish students. Muy bien!

. . . and Latin

Freshmen are always avid lovers of Latin. I wonder. Meet Mr. Morman's class in first year Latin.

"Gallia est omnis divisa in partes tres." Who cares? It does seem that Rosina, Carl, Mary J., David, and George do. Doesn't it?

Tom Blaser holds the floor in this modern history period. Bernard Reinhart, Lucille Lonsway, Geraldine Filliater, and Geraldine Calmes await the word from the chairman, John Kruszynski.

Who could appreciate history without its "ancient" background?

Social studies

If only we could see the names on those excellent maps in American history class.

Mildred Hammer presides as Viola Faeth and Bob Ardner "make sure." Civics in action.

Physics

Oh-h- look! Pat Lehman, with "that scientific eye" seems to be having trouble finding the boiling point.

Yes, there are tests in physics, too. If you don't believe it, just ask Kathleen Williams who looks as though she enjoys them.

See, it's working! Accurate weights mean a lot in any experiment and Don Schalk is making sure so he won't have to do it over again.

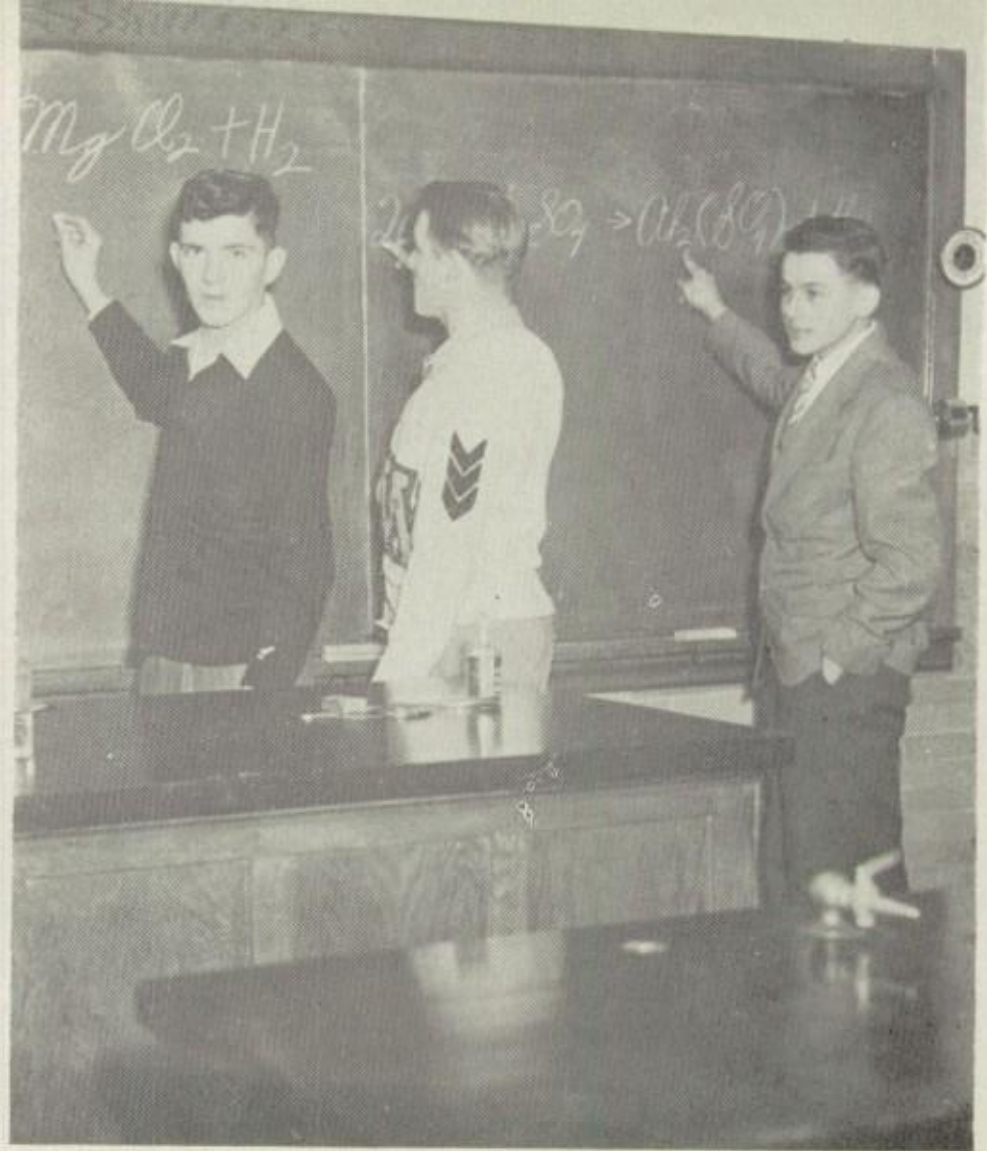

Future physicists at work. Marilyn Snyder and Jack Ziegman, in the foreground, contemplate changes in temperature, while Joan Bragg seems to be enjoying her lab work in physics.

Look out, Howie, you don't know what Dick is putting in there.

Chemistry

Whatsamatter, Carl? Stumped? C. Bodart, B. Conine and C. Finsel work out an equation for the class.

Biology

Sophomore biology students did much research work to keep their scrapbooks up to par.

R. Torres, G. Abowd, W. Pahl seem fascinated by the growth of the plant life in the terrarium.

Plant life

Animal life

. . . A biology hike is a splendid weather forecast. Just plan the date and, sure enough, it will rain. This year not even a salamander could we find along the banks of our Portage River.

Biologists of the sophomore degree catch glimpses of the great unknown.

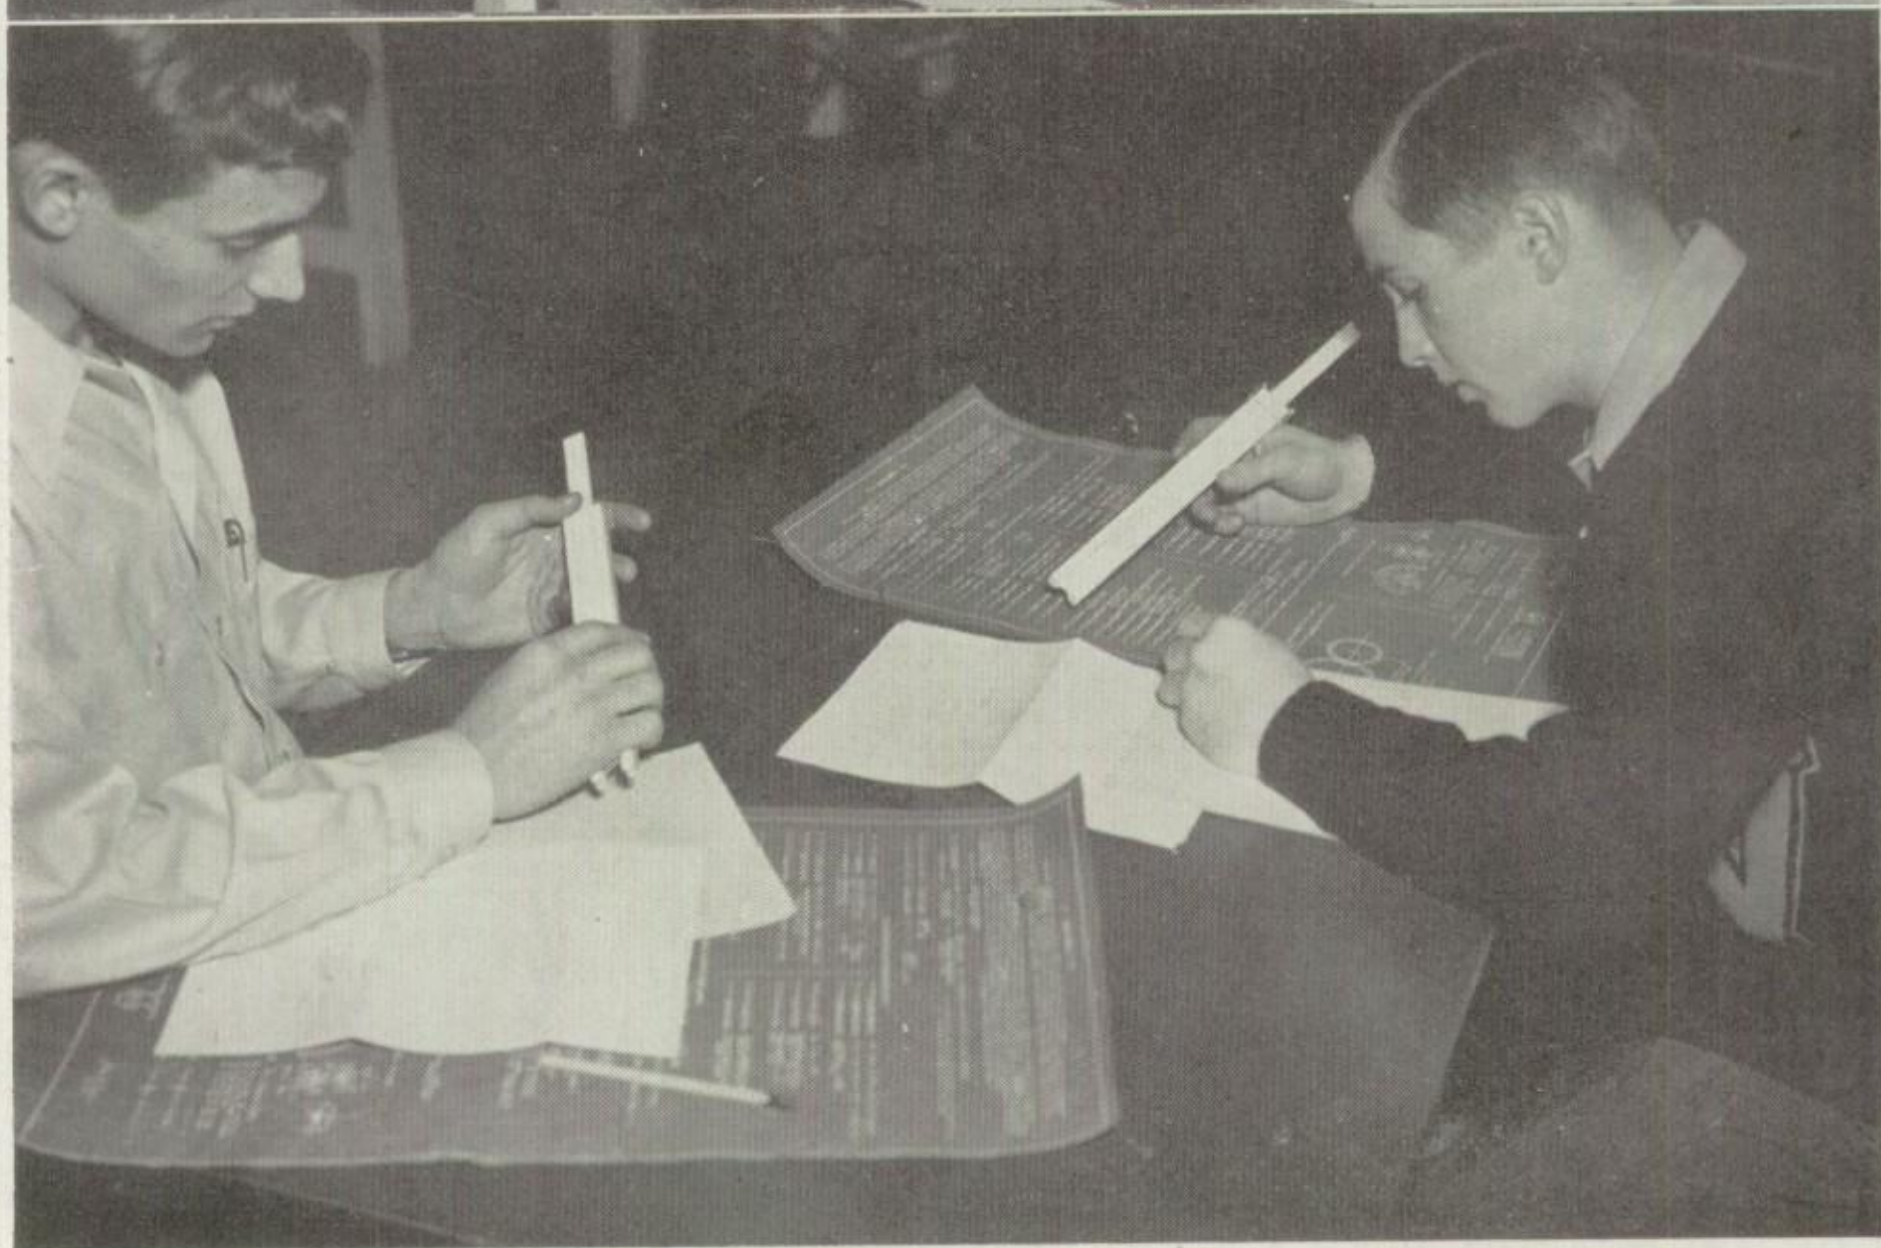

Visual education is used extensively during the school year.

What's this charm of Mr. Herman that entices the freshmen boys to remain after general science class?

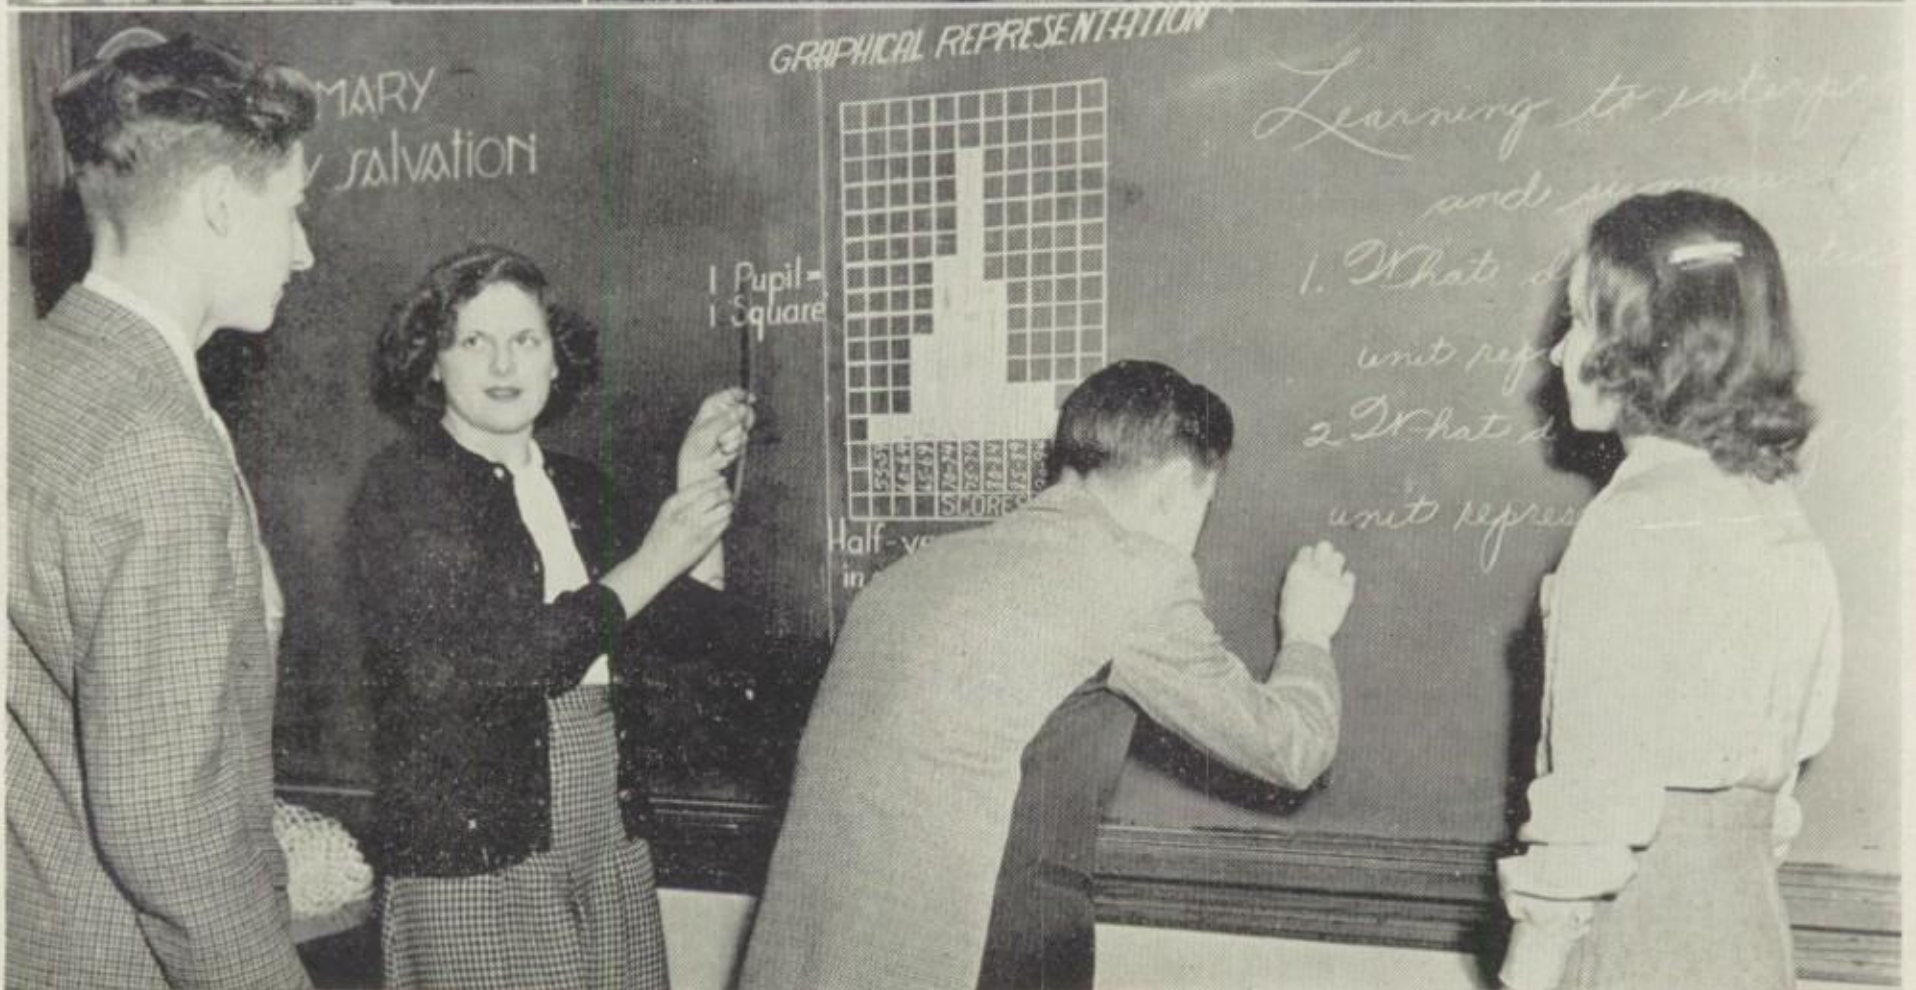

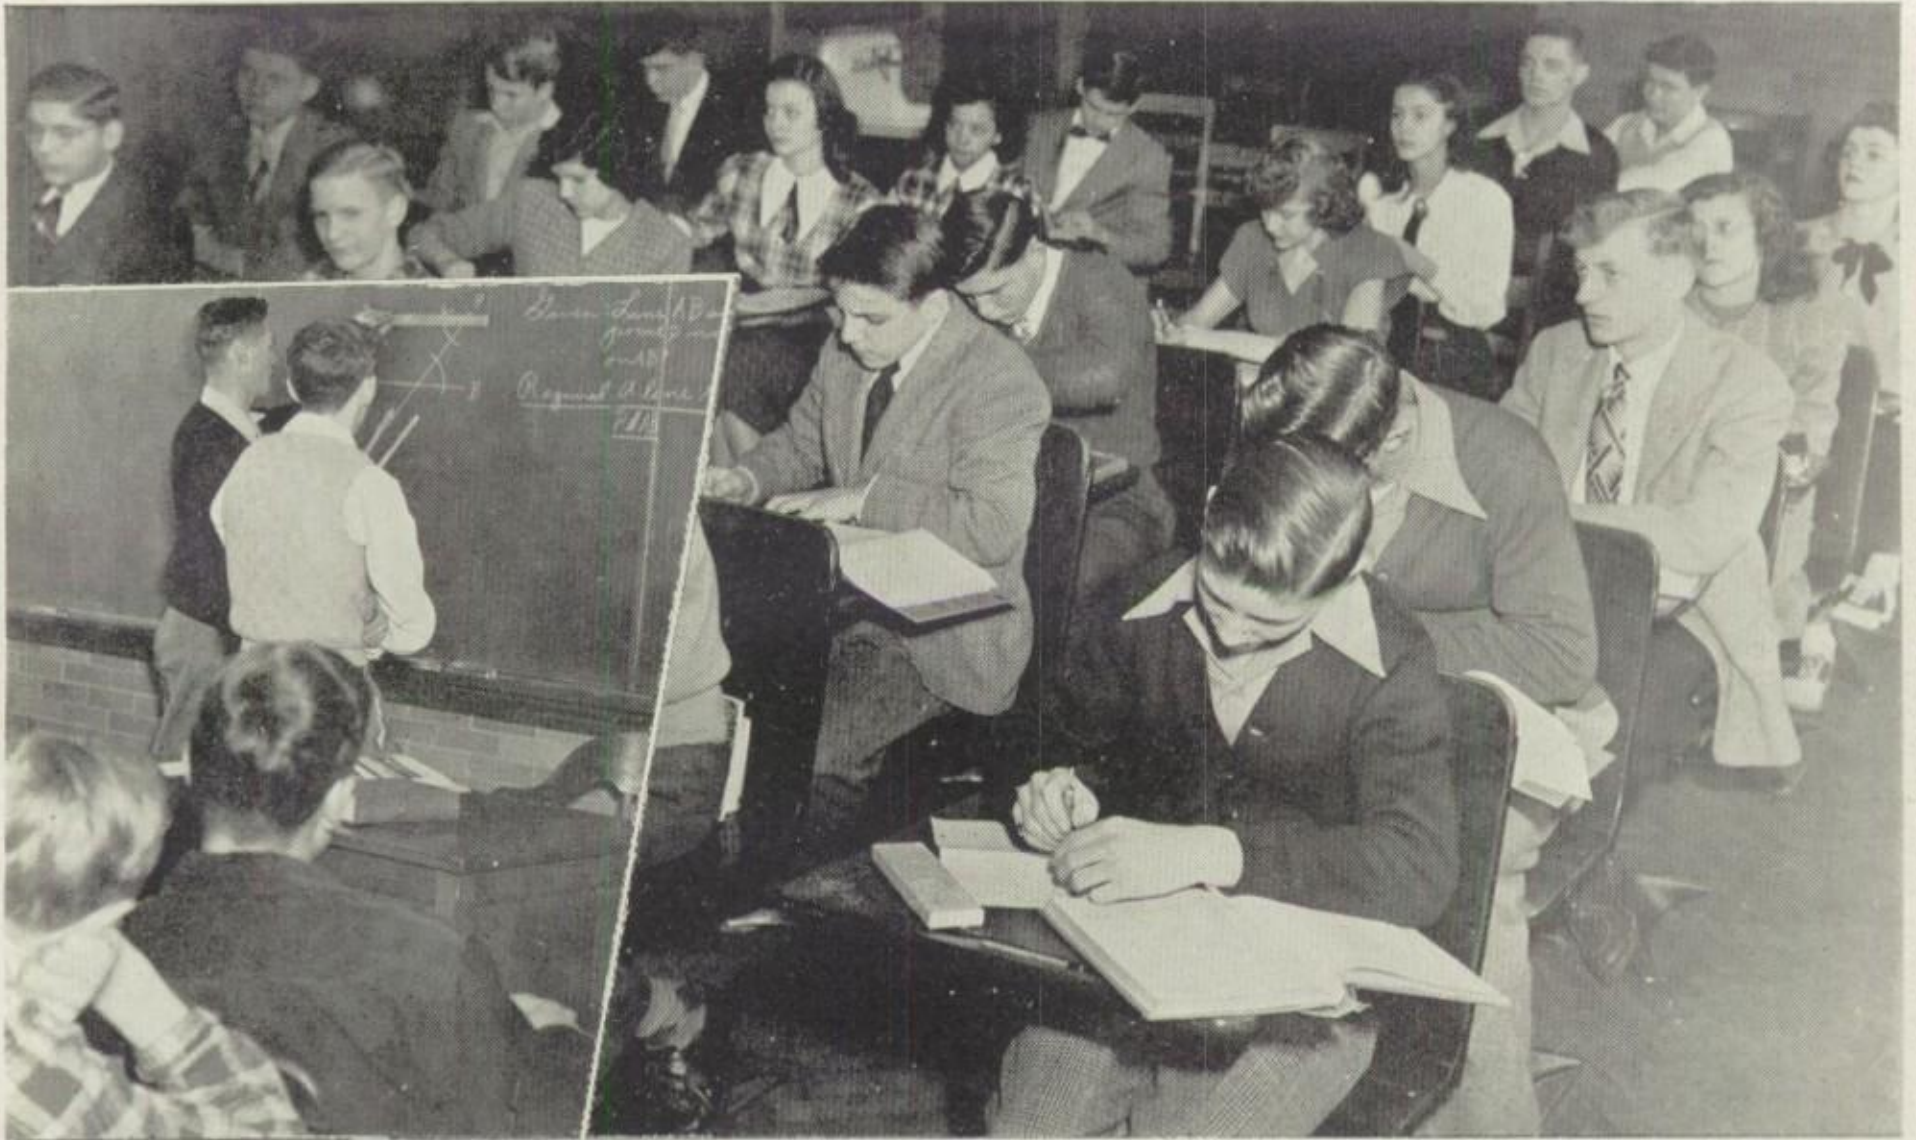

G. Erickner consulting a blue print . . . and . . . (it doesn't mean anything to girls!) J. Bradner and E. Ardner are checking dimensions on machine parts.

Who said the slide rule saves time . . . at least in the beginning?

And now to mathematical fields — drafting

Required: to draw a line through point P parallel to the line AB. So far correct, Wayne.

When do we not have graphs?

— algebra and geometry

Latest fashions for the spring of '48. These junior girls have quite a problem in elimination.

The Best in Arts Domestic

Notches out, pins perpendicular, pattern on the straight of the material!

Selecting

Sewing

Styling

Dorothy Gillig and Marguerite Cervantes display their sewing talent.

Margie Good on parade

Freshies are at it again concocting delectable dishes.

Cooking

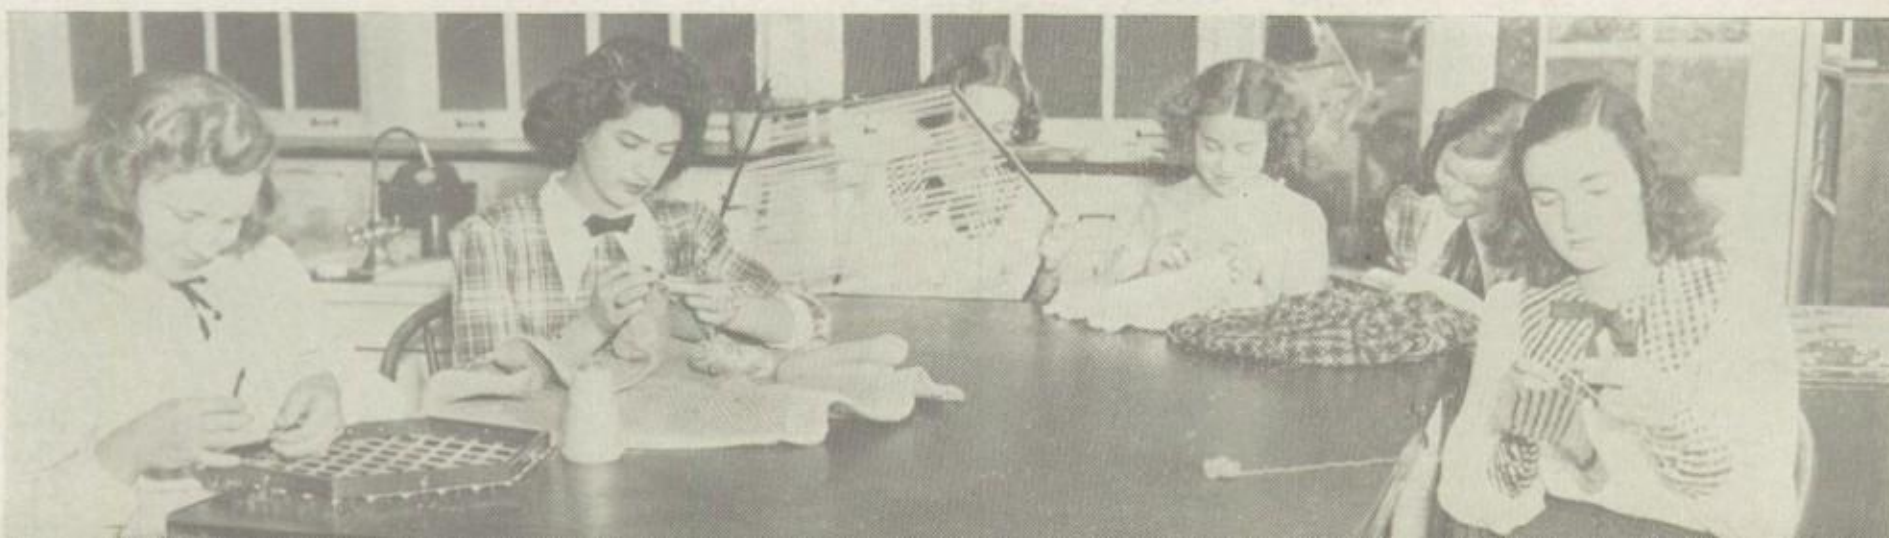

Carol and Wilma seem to enjoy their tea poured by Janet Zeyen.

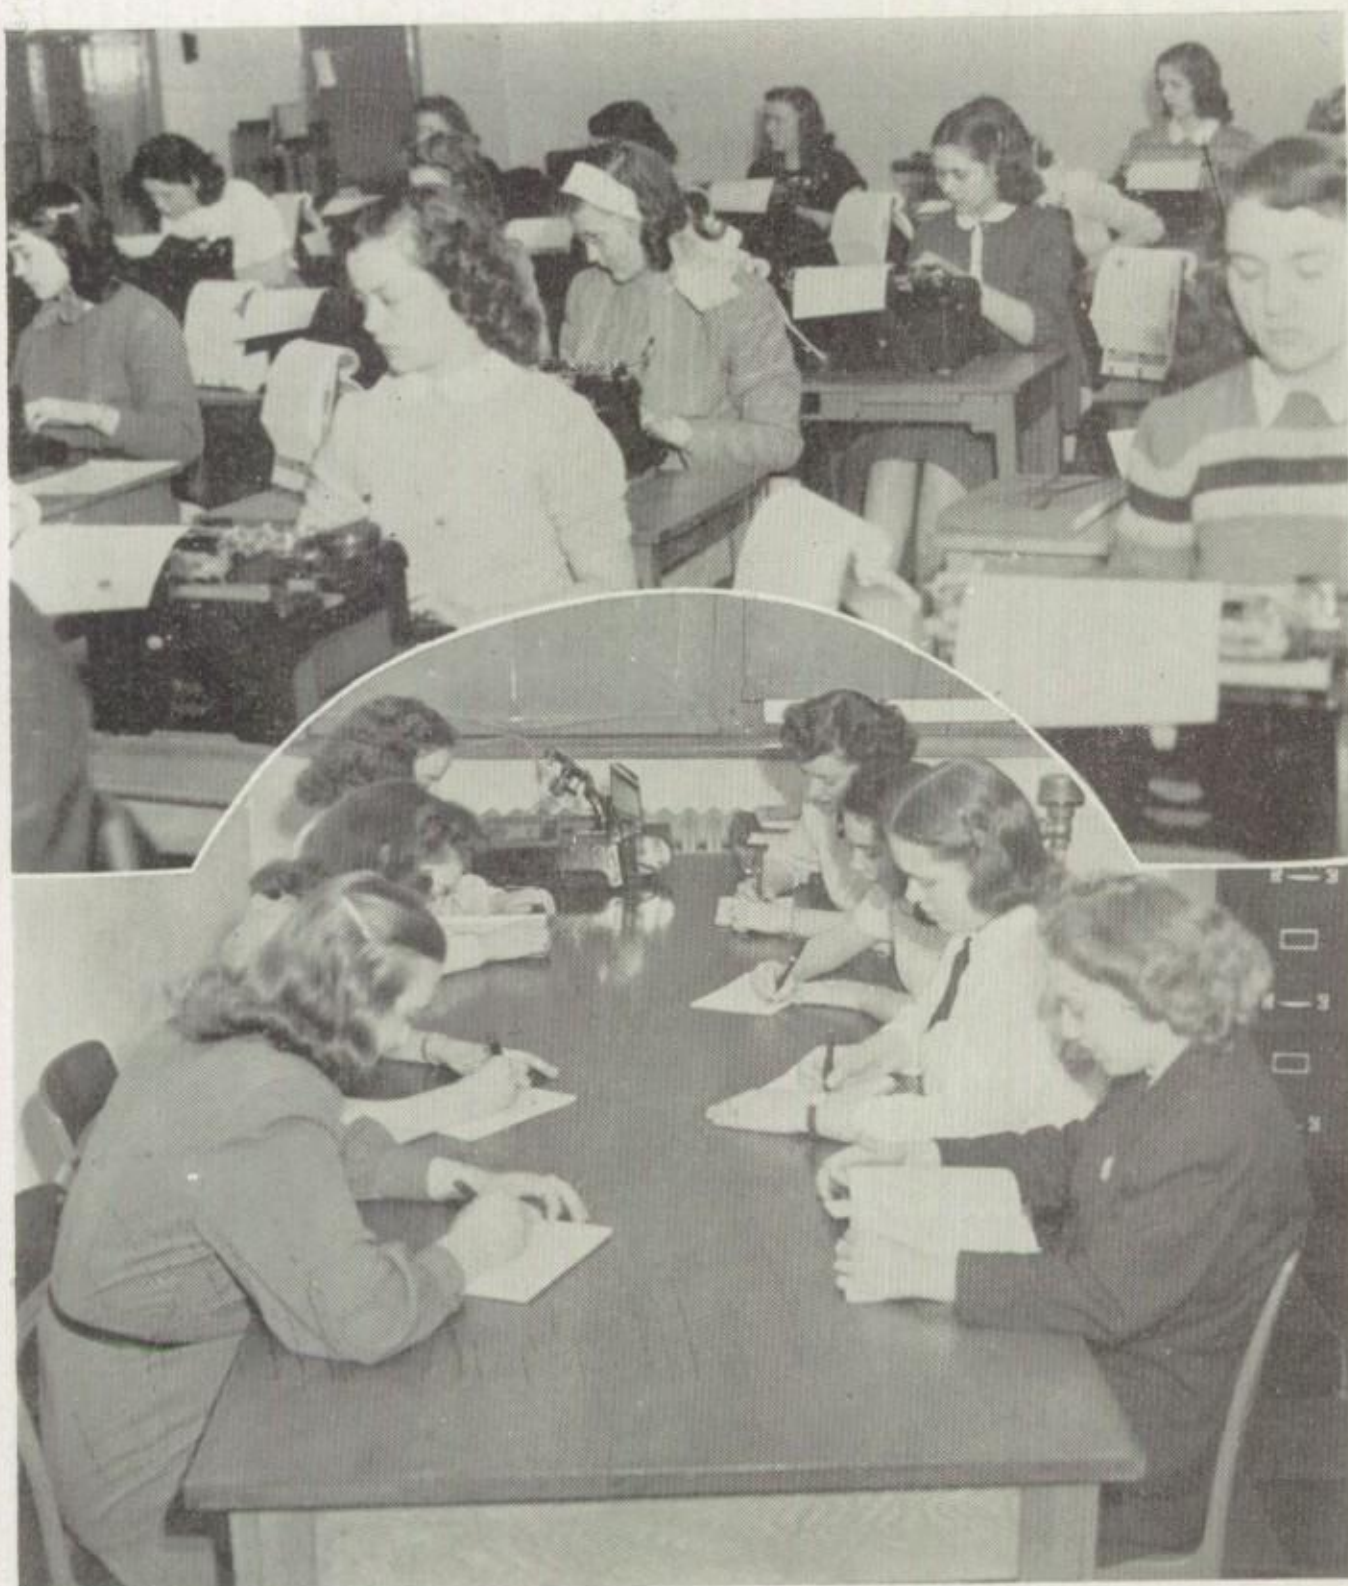

Ask the mechanical drawing class if these girls can serve a tea!

. . . and serving

A perfect picture of "busy fingers" is seen when D. Droll, S. Gutierrez, D. Boff, C. Bentz, M. Elchert, and J. Jacoby get grouped about their sewing table.

Keys clicking, bells ringing, fingers flying—activity in the typing room.

The goal of these senior girls is to make their one-hundred and twenty words a minute in shorthand.

Hal Tompkins presides over the meeting discussing the Junior Cut-Rate Dance.

Our Activities

"Christian education takes in the whole aggregate of human life, physical and spiritual, intellectual and moral, individual, domestic and social, not with a view of reducing it in any way, but in order to elevate, regulate and perfect it, in accordance with the example and teaching of Christ."—Pius XI.

*Retreat benefits

Retreat master and principal

And he's not even a crooner! Fans besiege Father Evans, following the nine o'clock high mass that closed our excellent retreat.

Talent Scouts, take notice

Initiation

Bathing caps, curlers, huge signs, patches and lipstick (on the boys) . . . all were symbolic of the Initiation Dance, climax to a day of fun.

parties

"Come one, come all! Buy your tickets here!"

dances

Here's one boy who missed the stag line. It isn't so bad, is it Dick?

They just can't seem to get up enough nerve to ask "her" to dance. Oh, well, give 'em time.

"Master accordion player," Kate Williams.

Our Christmas Assembly

Santa Claus is comin' to town! He did in the person of G. Brickner led by his eight (tiny?) reindeer, J. Whitta, D. Schalk, D. Loeffler, H. Good, J. Pocs, A. Ardner, J. Bradner, and J. Ziegman.

A glistening tree, an entertaining program, ice-cream and cake, all helped the seniors make the Christmas party a delightful memory.

Random shots

The senior president (in formal attire!) presents Don Schira a billfold as a farewell gift.

Even your breath vaporized that cold day, Marilyn.

Pat Lehman and James Bradner greet the president of the Child's Conservation League. "What do teen-agers expect of their parents" was the topic discussed before the members.

What's Cooking?

The annual banquet served by the Mothers' Club.

This is our Pat Hall, leader in the Foslin campaign and division leader in the Chronicle drive.

"The true Christian does not renounce the activities of this life, he does not stunt his natural faculties; but he develops and perfects them, by coordinating them with the supernatural. He thus enobles what is merely natural in life and secures for it new strength in the material and temporal order, no less than in the spiritual and eternal."—Pius XI.
